Step 4: Summary

We use comparatives to compare two people or things that are different in some way.

We use superlative forms to compare one person or thing with several others in a group.

	Short adjectives (1 syllable or 2 syllables ending in -y)	Long adjectives (2 syllables or more)
Comparative of superiority	Short adjectives: adjective + -er + than I am shorter than you. Adjectives ending in -y change to -ier : She's (much) happier now.	Long adjectives: more + adjective + than They are more enthusiastic than us.
Comparative of equality (as... as)	Short adjectives: as + adjective + as She is as nice as she used to be.	Long adjectives: as + adjective + as She is as talkative as she used to be.
Comparative of inferiority (less... than)	Short adjectives: less + adjective + than He is less fun than she is.	Long adjectives: less + adjective + than He is less serious than she is.
Superlative of superiority (the most... / the ...-est)	Short adjectives: the + adjective + -est It's the biggest attraction I've seen. Adjectives ending in -y become -iest : It's the easiest exercise in the	Long adjectives: the most + adjective Her cat is the most intelligent pet I've ever seen.

	book.
Superlative of inferiority (the least...)	Short & long adjectives: the least + adjective They are the least kind. He is the least attractive of them all.
More and more / -er and -er (increasing degree)	Short adjectives: adjective + -er and -er She's happier and happier.	Long adjectives: more and more + adjective He was getting more and more suspicious.

Irregular comparatives and superlatives:

	Comparative	Superlative
Good	Better	The best
Bad	Worse	The worst
Far	Further Farther	The furthest The farthest

On utilise les comparatifs pour comparer deux personnes ou choses qui sont différentes d’une certaine manière.

On utilise les superlatifs pour comparer une personne ou une chose à plusieurs autres dans un groupe.

	Adjectifs courts (1 syllabe ou 2 syllabes se terminant en-y)	Adjectifs longs (à partir de 2 syllabes)
Comparatif de supériorité (plus...que)	Adjectif court + -er + than I am shorter than you. Je suis plus petite que toi. La terminaison des adjectifs en -y devient -ier : She's (much) happier now. Elle est (bien) plus heureuse maintenant.	More + adjectif long + than They are more enthusiastic than us. Ils sont plus enthousiastes que nous.
Comparatif	As + adjectif court + as	As + adjectif long + as

d'égalité (autant...que)	She is as nice as she used to be. Elle est aussi gentille qu'autrefois.	She is as talkative as she used to be. Elle est aussi bavarde qu'autrefois.
Comparatif d'infériorité (moins...que)	Less + adjectif court + than He is less fun than she is. Il est moins drôle qu'elle.	Less + adjectif long + than He is less serious than she is. Il est moins sérieux qu'elle.
Superlatif de supériorité (le plus)	The + adjectif court + -est It's the biggest attraction I've seen. C'est la plus grande attraction que j'aie jamais vue. La terminaison des adjectifs en -y devient -iest : It's the easiest exercise in the book. C'est l'exercice le plus facile du livre.	The most + adjectif long Her cat is the most intelligent pet I've ever seen. Son chat est l'animal domestique le plus intelligent que j'aie jamais vu.
Superlatif d'infériorité (le moins)	The least + adjectif They are the least kind. Ce sont les moins gentils.	The least + adjectif He is the least attractive of them all. C'est le moins beau de tous.
De plus en plus	Adjectif + er and adjectif + -er She's happier and happier. Elle est de plus en plus heureuse.	More and more + adjectif He was getting more and more suspicious. Il devenait de plus en plus méfiant.

Comparatifs et superlatifs irréguliers :

	Comparatif	Superlatif
Good	Better	The best
Bad	Worse	The worst
Far	Further Farther	The furthest The farthest

Step 5: I practise

“Language work”

Exercise 1. [Drag and Drop] Match each adjective to its comparative and superlative form.

Adjective	Comparative	Superlative
short	shorter	the shortest
good	better	the best
happy	happier	the happiest
difficult	more difficult	the most difficult

Aucune case dans le tableau ne doit être pré-remplie (hormis les 3 grisées en haut)

Exercise 2. Choose the correct word in each sentence.

1. John is [taller/tallest] than his sister.
2. He's the [smartest/smarter] boy in the family.
3. She is [less serious/seriouser] than her sister.
4. It's the most [worst/bad] restaurant in town.

Step 6: I say

“Voicework”

Pedagogical approach and technical possibilities to be confirmed

Comparative and superlative suffixes do not change the position of stress. Remember that adjectives ending in “y” add an “i” to the suffix. Listen and repeat the following examples:

1. Easy – easier – easiest
2. High – higher – highest
3. Fast – faster – fastest
4. Healthy – healthier – healthiest

Exercise 1 – Drag and Drop: Match each adjective to its comparative and superlative form

Adjective	Comparative	Superlative
fast	faster	the fastest
bad	worse	the worst
good	better	the best
lucky	luckier	the luckiest
interesting	more interesting	the most interesting

Score /5

Exercise 2. Choose the correct word in each sentence

1. This film is [funnier|funniest] than the last one.
2. It's the [most delicious|more delicious] cake I've ever eaten.
3. Luke is [less confident|confidenter] than Leia.

Score /6

4. This is the [worst worse] idea you've ever had. 5. He's [as talented as so talented like] his brother. 6. It was the [best better] decision. 7. I'm [as tired as as tiring as] you.
Exercise 3. Listen to the dialogue. Choose the correct form of the adjective you hear: comparative or superlative. Lizzie: Hey Tom, how's your new class this semester? Tom: Honestly, it's [harder hardest] than I expected. The professor gives [more difficult most] difficult assignments than last year. Lizzie: Same here! I think this is the [most stressful more stressful] term I've had so far. Tom: Yeah, and the library is [busier busiest] than ever. I couldn't even find a seat yesterday! Lizzie: I know! The science library is [quieter quietest] than the main one, though. You should try it. Tom: Good tip! Also, have you tried the new cafeteria? Lizzie: Yes! The food there is [healthier healthiest] and [cheaper cheapest] than the old one. Tom: Agreed. And the pasta is the [tastiest tastier] dish on the menu. Lizzie: For sure! Let's grab lunch there after class? Tom: Sounds like the [best better] plan today.	Audios à déposer sur le Cloud Score /9
Step 8: I share “groupclass” Choose a member of your family or a friend, and write some sentences to compare them to yourself. For example: - I am smaller than my best friend. - My father is the tallest person in my family. - I am as good as my sister at sports.

Be ready to share your sentences with your classmates!

Step 11: For teachers

1. Speaking

Divide students into small groups and give each group a category: sports / school subjects / singers / cities / TV series / food... Their task is to compare 3–5 items in the category using comparative and superlative structures. If necessary: Provide each group with hint cards containing adjectives to help them review and use the vocabulary.

Ex (sports): fencing / climbing / football / basketball....

- Which sport is more difficult, swimming or gymnastics?
- What is the most popular sport in your home country?
- Boxing is more dangerous than karate.
- Surfing is the most exciting sport I know.

2. Writing and speaking

Each student receives a short survey sheet with 5–7 superlative prompts such as: Who is the funniest in the class? / Who is the most punctual? / Who is the best at English? / Who is the most helpful?

(Students can also write 3 of their own questions individually, then swap sheets with their classmates.)

Students walk around the classroom and ask their classmates: “Who do you think is the funniest?”, “In your opinion, who is the most helpful?”

Students return to their seats and write 2–3 full sentences to summarize their findings.

Ex: "Most students said Marisa is the most punctual."
